CHAPTER I.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT THE TWO SACRAMENTS.

I DARE say there may be some persons, into whose hands this little Book may fall, who hardly know that there are two Sacraments. They have, perhaps, been in the habit of calling the Lord's Supper "the Sacrament," as if there was no other; forgetting that Baptism is also a Sacrament.

But what do we mean by "a Sacrament?" We mean by it an outward sign of some inward blessing. Mere words and commands are apt to be forgotten by us; therefore our Lord Jesus Christ, who well knew our weakness, appointed certain outward ceremonies, which we can see, to bring before our minds, and convey to our souls, certain inward and spiritual blessings, which we cannot see.

The word Sacrament has also a further meaning. It was formerly used to signify the oath, by which Soldiers bound themselves to be faithful to their General. And thus, when we partake of the Sacraments of the church, (that is, Baptism, and the Lord's Supper,) we do in fact pledge ourselves to be true and faithful soldiers of Christ, who is the great "Captain of our salvation."

Now, in what I am going to say in the following pages, my great wish is to speak so that plain people may understand me. Therefore I shall not puzzle you with long words, but use very simple language.

But before we go any farther, I must ask two things of my Reader. The first is, that he will give me his whole attention; for, merely skimming over these pages will do him no good whatever. The second is, that he will just pause for a moment, and lift up his heart to God, praying that what follows may convey some real instruction to his soul.

THE READER'S PRAYER.

O Almighty God, who well knowest all my blindness and ignorance, be pleased to prepare my mind for instruction, by giving me thy Holy Spirit. Grant that whatever is true in this book may come home to my heart. I confess that I have not thought enough, in time past, about those holy Sacraments, which thou hast given us. Enable me, henceforth, to feel as I ought concerning them; and to look upon them with more seriousness and thankfulness. Hear me, O Lord; and guide me whilst I am reading, for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

CHAPTER II.

THE APPOINTMENT OF BAPTISM.

WE may be quite sure that nothing is commanded in the Gospel, which is useless or unmeaning. And yet, it is to be feared, that many see no meaning in Baptism; but only look upon it as an outward ceremony, which, merely for custom's sake, ought to be kept up. This arises from ignorance. Now my wish is to explain to you what Baptism is; and then, I think, you will agree with me, that it is a very holy, and also a very comfortable, means of grace ; and perhaps you will wonder, that you could ever have thought so lightly of it.

First of all, it is well to inquire, WHO APPOINTED IT ? It was our Lord Jesus Christ himself.

Even before his coming, however, it was sometimes practised by the Jews. For, when any of the gentiles, or heathens, were converted from their idolatry, the Jews used, not only to circumcise, but also to baptize them with water. And when John the Baptist* came to “prepare the way of the Lord,” he also baptized with water those who were converted by his preaching, and desired to become his followers. This was to show them that, as water washes the body from its filth, so the soul has need to be cleansed from its guilt. Look at Matthew iii. 4, 5, 6.

Among those whom John baptized, was one Person, far greater, and holier, and better, than any one who had ever before appeared on earth. This was Jesus himself. For though he had nothing like a sin to be washed away, yet as he came on earth "to fulfil all righteousness," and to set us a perfect example, he commanded John to baptize him, before he entered upon his glorious work. I refer you to Matthew iii. 13—17.

And then, when Jesus began to gather around him a small, but blessed, band of followers, he marked them for his own, and set them apart for his service, by the rite of Baptism. This you will see for yourself, by turning to John iii. 22, 26; and iv. 1, 2.

After our Lord's departure into heaven, Baptism became a most important and blessed sacrament in the Christian Church. For this was the command He left with his disciples, "Go ye, and teach (or make disciples of) all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Matthew xxviii. 19. And this is the reason, why the ministers of Christ ever since, in joyful obedience to the command of their great Master, have baptized those who are brought to them, using the very words which He desired, "I baptize thee in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.”

But some persons object to our manner of performing the ceremony. They say we ought not to sprinkle, but to dip, those whom we baptize. Now, if you look in the Prayer-book, you will see that the Ministers of our church are directed to dip the child in water, if the parents certify that their child can well bear it. But as we consider that, in this country, there would be danger in doing so, and as our Lord gave no command as to the quantity of water to be used, we do not hesitate to sprinkle instead. Surely the benefit cannot depend upon the measure of water which is used, but upon the blessing of the Lord upon his own ordinance.

10 APPOINTMENT OF BAPTISM.

A false notion, something like this, seems to have been in Peter's mind, when our Lord came to wash his feet. Jesus, however, instantly removed it. Look at John xiii. 8, 9, 10.

I shall now close this chapter, by once more reminding you, that it is Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who commands Baptism to be administered. We shall speak next of the persons for whom it was intended.

CHAPTER III.

THE PERSONS TO BE BAPTIZED.

HAVING seen that the holy Sacrament of Baptism was given to us by our most gracious Lord, and is therefore worthy of our very serious consideration, we now come to the question, WHO ARE THE PERSONS, FOR WHOM IT IS INTENDED ?

1. Those Grown-up Persons, who were not baptized when they were young. You probably know that, in the Prayer Book, there is a separate service, specially for “such as are of riper years.”

In heathen countries, the Ministers of our Church meet, of course, with many such Persons. And as soon as they begin to feel the blessings of the Gospel, and show a real and earnest desire to become the Followers of Christ, we then receive them into His Church by the ordinance of Baptism. Such was the case in the countries where the Apostles preached. The religion of Jesus Christ was quite a new thing among them. And this is the reason, why almost all those baptisms, which are mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles, are the baptisms of Adults.* And this is just what we should have expected.

* By "Adults" we mean Grown-up persons.

Again, there are sometimes cases, in our own country, of men and women, who were not christened in their infancy. Their parents neglected the blessed privilege of bringing them to Christ, in his own appointed way; and thus they have remained for years separated from his Church. Now, how do we act with such Persons? If they desire this blessing, and seem to be really anxious to serve Christ, and show signs of having a truly penitent and believing heart, then we are ready to receive them. This was the manner of the Apostles: for it is written, (Acts ii. 38,) “ Repent and be baptized for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost:” and again, (Mark xvi. 16,)

14 PERSONS TO BE BAPTIZED.

“He that believeth, and is baptized, shall be saved.”

But, in a Christian country, there is another class who enjoy the privilege of Baptism. And these are the persons, who are usually brought into our churches to be baptized. I mean,

2. The Children of Christian Parents. The blessings of Christ are not only bestowed on Believers themselves; but their Little Ones in some degree become sharers also. It is true there is no direct command in scripture to baptize infants. Our Saviour does not plainly tell us so in as many words. And, on this account, some have doubted, whether children ought in any case to be baptized.

I shall, therefore, give you some of the reasons, why our Church acts as it does. For although all Christians, I believe, excepting the Baptists and the Quakers, have always held to Infant Baptism; and although you may feel sure, that your own Church would appoint nothing contrary to Scripture, or to the practice of the early Christians, yet it is well for you to have some of the reasons placed before you.

First Reason. Because, in the days of Abraham,* God allowed children to be the sharers of His covenant; as you will see by turning to Genesis xvii. 9—14. We find Moses also speaking thus, in the 29th chapter of Deuteronomy, “Ye stand this day, all of you, before the Lord your God, your captains, your tribes, your elders, and your officers, with all the children of Israel, your little ones, your wives, and the stranger that is in thy camp; that thou shouldest enter into covenant with the Lord thy God.” As an outward sign of this blessing, God commanded men in those times to circumcise their children, at eight days’ old. This was the way, by which He chose that they should be admitted, when as yet infants, into His Church. When our Lord came, He gave us something better—even Baptism, of which circumcision was only the type.* What circumcision did for the Jews formerly, Baptism does for us Christians now; only it brings with it far more precious blessings. Read Colossians ii. 11, 12.

* The covenant of grace, under which we are now living, is, in fact, the same as that under which Abraham lived, only it is now come to perfection.

If, then, little children were formerly received as members of the Jewish Church, how much more shall little children be admitted now into the Christian Church!

We can fancy that a Jewish Mother, if she loved her Child, would feel very happy, that she could be-

* A type is a thing which shadows forth, or represents, some greater thing. Thus the offering of Isaac was a type of the offering of Christ. The Passover Lamb was a type of Christ, the true Lamb of God. And so circumcision also was a type of Baptism.

hold it thus, in its earliest days, taken into covenant with God. But happier still should the Christian parent feel, that she is allowed to claim for her helpless Infant a place in the covenant of grace, and a shelter within the bosom of Christ's holy Church.

Second Reason. Because it was foretold concerning Christ, that He would show affection and mercy even to the very lambs of his fold ; that is, to the youngest members of His church. Isaiah says, " He shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom." And surely we all remember that beautiful instance of his kindness, and of his willingness to receive little children, mentioned in the 10th chapter of St. Mark. There we are told, that, when they brought little children to him, He suffered them to come to him; and actually took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

Now, when we bring our infants to be christened, we in fact bring them to Christ, feeling that although He is now in heaven, he can still “receive them into the arms of his mercy,” and give them his own rich blessing. And, in the charge which our Saviour gives to Peter, he does not say, “feed the lambs;” but he says, “feed my lambs.”

Third Reason. Because our Lord does not, by any word He ever spoke, shut children out from heaven. No, on the contrary, when He speaks of them, He says, “Of such is the kingdom of heaven.” If then children may enter God's heavenly Kingdom, surely they may be admitted into his Church on earth.

Fourth Reason. Because we read in Scripture, that the apostles baptized whole households or families. For instance, we learn from Acts xvi. 15, that when Lydia's heart was opened by the grace of God, "she was baptized, and her household." Again, in the same chapter, we read of another case. It was that of the Jailor at Philippi, whom it pleased God to convince of the truth of the Gospel, whilst he was watching over Paul and Silas in prison. We are told in the 33rd verse, that "he (the Jailor) took them, the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes, and was baptized, he and all his, straightway. Then, again, St. Paul tells us, in 1 Corinthians i. 16, that Stephanas and his household were baptized. Now, it is but natural to suppose, that there were some children in these families.

Fifth Reason. Because we know that, for the first thousand years after our blessed Lord went up into heaven, it was always the practice to baptize the Children of Christian Parents. And is it likely that, during those years, the whole Church can have been altogether wrong, on such a plain point?

Since that time, an objection has been made, as I have already told you, by a certain sect of Christians, who are called Baptists; and also by the Quakers, who hold that Baptism and the Lord's Supper are neither of them necessary.

As I have much more to say, I shall make no remark on these five reasons. I think they will speak for themselves.

We believe, then, that the Children of Christian Parents are proper subjects for Baptism. And also such Grown-up Persons, as have neglected it when young; and who now give satisfactory proof, that their hearts are in a penitent and believing state. And here we close our chapter.

CHAPTER IV.

SOME OF THE BENEFITS OF BAPTISM.

How often have we heard parents say, “ I will take my child to be named next Sunday.” And how many a Father and Mother have asked their Clergyman to christen their Child, under some such feeling as this—“ We should be sorry that our Little One should die without a name.” Well, it is true that we give a new name—a christian name—at Baptism. But it is great ignorance to suppose that this is all.

There is something more in it than this ; something more to be gained than just a name. The fear is, not that our children should die without a name, but lest they should die without being brought to Christ, in the way which He has chosen.

Is it not very sad to think, how many Parents desire their children to be christened, they scarcely know why? And yet hundreds can give no better reason than this—"Such is the custom ; and the same was done for us, when we were young." But surely, no thoughtful person can suppose, that Baptism is nothing more than a custom ; a mere empty, useless, unmeaning ceremony. You were told, at the beginning of this book, that it was a Sacrament. And we have seen that the Lord himself appointed it, and charged his disciples and followers to continue it. Oh then, must it not, think you, be something of importance to us ; something very blessed and holy ?

WHAT THEN ARE THE BENEFITS which Baptism brings with it ? There are many ; but I shall just mention five.

1. Our sin, which we brought with us into the world, and which came to us from our father Adam, is pardoned. This is what we mean, when we say every Sunday, “ I believe in one Baptism, for the remission of sins.” When St. Paul repented, and believed in Jesus Christ, it was necessary for him to be baptized ; so Ananias said to him, “ Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins.” Acts xxii. 16. And when the people were “ pricked in their hearts,” after hearing St. Peter’s sermon, what did he say to them? “ Repent, and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.” Acts ii. 38.

Thus, Baptism and Forgiveness of Sins seem to go together. In the Scriptures the Lord again and again declares, that He is a pardoning God; and that “there is forgiveness with him.” But, in this ordinance of Baptism, he formally and publicly pronounces his will to forgive us individually. Just as an offended Parent, though he is always willing to pardon his penitent child, yet calls him up, and in the presence of the other members of his family, assures him that he is forgiven. In fact, Baptism is the seal or pledge of our pardon. God gives a promise, that he will pardon sin for Christ's sake; and by Baptism He puts his seal to it.

I will try to make this still more plain to you. We will suppose, that some unhappy Debtors are confined in prison, without a hope of being able to pay the debt themselves. A very kind and rich Friend pays the debt for them. The King sends an order that they may be set free. And, as the matter is of great importance, he not only signs the order, but puts his seal to it. They feel very thankful for the offer of liberty; and if they are disposed to doubt its really coming from the king, they say to themselves, "Here is the king's own seal, which is a pledge to assure us that he intended it." It is hardly necessary to explain myself. We are the poor hopeless Debtors. Sin is our debt. Christ is our kind Friend, who is rich in mercy; and who, with the price of his own blood, has discharged our debt. The King of heaven sends offers of mercy and forgiveness. And Baptism is the seal, by which God pledges himself to fulfil his promise.

2. We are made Christians, or members of Christ's Church. I do not say, that we all become good Christians; for many baptized persons live quite as wickedly as heathens ; nay, even more wickedly in the sight of God, because they have been entered into his army, and then have deserted him. But what I mean is, that in Baptism Christ marks us as His. We publicly give ourselves to Him ; and we become His property, and are no longer our own.

You know how it is, when a Farmer purchases a number of lambs. He has them marked with his own name : and then he places them among the rest of his flock, and every one knows them to be his. Now it is by Baptism that we are received into Christ's fold. This is the mark, by which He distinguishes his own from strangers ; and we are then " signed with the sign of the cross." Our Catechism tells us, that we are made “members of Christ,” that is to say, members of his Church, or Body. And we read in the 27th Article,* “They that receive Baptism rightly are grafted into the Church.”

When you see a Vine, growing up the side of a house, with its spreading branches, some young and tender, and some full-grown, then think of Christ and his Church. For, in the 15th of John, our Lord says, “I am the Vine; ye are the Branches.” We are grafted into

* At the end of your Prayer Book, you will find the “Articles of Religion.” There are thirty-nine of them; and these contain the chief doctrines of our Church. I heartily wish, that these Articles were more carefully read and examined. Then people would see, how faithfully our Church follows the teaching of Holy Scripture.

Him (the Vine) by Baptism. We are received into His covenant. But, our Lord himself tells us, there are many branches in the vine, which are barren and worthless. And therefore, whilst the good branches remain for ever joined to the stem, and nourished by it, the bad ones shall one day be removed; for it is written in that same chapter, "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit He taketh away." So, you see, we must not only be grafted into Him, but we must abide in Him, living on Him by faith, clinging to Him as our blessed and hourly support; for again he says, "If a man abiae not in Me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered." And this clearly shows, that a man may by this ordinance be grafted into Christ's Church, or be made a Christian, and yet never be admitted into His blessed Kingdom above. For without holiness "no man shall see the Lord." It is only the faithful servant of Christ who shall dwell where He is; only the man who has been united to Him by a living, active, earnest faith.

3. We are received into God's family on earth. We become, as our Catechism states, the "children of God." But here again let us remark, that, although by this Sacrament we were made children, we do not all prove to be good, and faithful, and obedient children.

How was it with the circumcised Jew? We are told in the Bible, that God reckoned all the Jews as his peculiar family. "To them belonged the adoption." Though many of them were wicked and rebellious children, yet they were God's children still. So it is with us Christians. We are now God's family. We are permitted, not only to look upon Him as our Master, but as our Father. He watches over us with a Father's eye; protects us with a Father's care; guides us with a Father's hand; and gives us a Father's blessing. God will withhold nothing from us, if we are faithful to Him.

And is not this a vast privilege? Oh well is it, if we are living up to it! The great question is, "Are we now living and acting as God's children? Are we desiring to be taught, and guided, and led, by His Spirit ?” Otherwise we are only deceiving ourselves. We are false, and not true, children ; for it is written, “ As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.”

4. Heaven becomes our Land of Promise. We are made “ inheritors (or heirs) of the kingdom of heaven.” All Christian blessings, as I said before, are placed within our reach ; even heaven itself. It is our proper home, our “ Father’s house.” And there Christ has prepared “ many mansions ” for those whom He graciously calls his Brethren. But the actual enjoyment and possession of heaven will only be secured to those among us, who are walking in the one appointed way, and are earnestly seeking to enter in by the strait gate of faith and holiness.

5. *In Baptism we are said to be regenerated.** This is a strong expression; but it is a scriptural one. We find, too, that the early Christians used it, when speaking of Baptism; and so does our own Church. It does not surely mean, that our hearts and natures are changed: but that our state is so altered, that it is like a new birth to us.

By nature, we are born “the children of wrath;” in baptism, we are made “the children of grace.” By birth the child inherits a curse;

* Strictly speaking, I should not have called this a distinct blessing, for it includes all the others. But I feel it to be important to speak of it under a separate head.

by baptism he receives a blessing. Instead of belonging only to Adam, he now belongs to Christ. He is no longer "afar off," but "brought nigh" to God ; and may enjoy all the privileges of his church. He has new blessings, new duties, new hopes, and new prospects before him. He receives the promise of the Holy Spirit, to strengthen him in his warfare. He has the blessed and ever-bright assurance, that God is his Father and his Friend. And is not this a change indeed? Is not this worthy to be called "regeneration?"*

* The word "regenerate" means "re-born," or "born again." Some persons object to this word being used in our service for Baptism. This is, I think, owing to its meaning being misunderstood. The fact is,

What has been said about the benefits of baptism chiefly refers to that the word has a twofold meaning.

1st. It signifies, in its fullest and highest sense, that inward and spiritual change, when the soul is quickened by God's grace, and the man becomes "a new creature," and altogether a changed character. Now, we know from experience, that every baptized person is not thus changed.

But 2dly, it signifies also the admission into a new state and new privileges, although the heart and character may remain unaltered. This probably is the sense in which the word was originally used. And this, I believe, is the "regeneration" which takes place at baptism. Thus, in our Collect for Christmas-day, we pray, "Grant that we, being regenerate, (that is, being already regenerate by baptism,) and made thy children by adoption and grace, may daily be renewed by thy Holy Spirit, (that is, may become regenerate in the highest and fullest sense of the word).

I trust I have now said enough to show you; what a privilege it is to be a baptized member of Christ's church on earth. But there is a wide difference, in the sight of God, between the greatest privileges and the inward renewing of the heart unto holiness. Privileges are not salvation. It is not enough to have been made "a member of Christ." But it is further necessary to come to Him by faith, and to close with Him as our righteousness, that so we may be "rooted and grounded in Him." Faith is the golden thread, which binds the believer to Christ. We must be savingly united to Christ: and this can only be, by believing in Him with the heart.

You see then, that many and great blessings have been made over to us. But how often are they trampled under foot, and made of none effect ! Possibly, dear Reader, you may have done this. If so, I pray that God may have stopped you in your course, and brought you to your senses, by His converting grace ! Happy is it for you, if you have been led by his Spirit to feel deep repentance and contrition of heart ; so that you now earnestly exclaim, “ I will arise, and go to my Father, and say unto Him, Father, I have sinned, and am no more worthy to be called thy son ! ” Happy is it, if you have been brought truly to feel your sins, and to mourn over them ! And happy for you, if you can now see the preciousness of Christ's atonement, and your great need to be washed from your sins in his blood, and to be daily renewed by his Holy Spirit!

CHAPTER V.

SERIOUS ADVICE TO PARENTS.

THE following advice is affectionately offered to every Father and Mother of a new-born child.

The situation you are now placed in is a very blessed one. You may look upon the gift of a child as a token of God's favour to you; for it is written, "Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord, and the fruit of the womb is his reward." You have now a solemn duty to discharge ; but, blessed be God, you have many a precious promise to encourage you.

It would be most unnatural, if you were not to feel concerned about your child's bodily health. Those must indeed be hard-hearted Parents, who do not count it a pleasure, as well as a duty, to do their best for the clothing and feeding of their Little One. But is there not a further duty ; a duty still more solemn and important ? Your child is born with a body, that must die ; but also with A SOUL, THAT WILL LIVE THROUGH ALL ETERNITY ! It has A SOUL, THAT WILL EITHER BE SAVED, OR LOST, FOR EVER !!

Indeed, this is enough to make you very anxious ; for how much, under God, will depend upon you ! From the moment of his birth, you should determine that nothing shall be wanting, on your part, to bring him up as a servant of God. But remember, you yourselves are very weak. Pray then to God, that he may teach, and direct, you how to perform your duty. Remember, too, your Little One, like every child of fallen Adam, has a corrupt heart, and is ready to “go astray as soon as he is born.” Beseech the Lord then to bestow upon him his almighty grace. And oh ! are you not thankful that there is a means appointed by the Saviour himself, by which you may at once place him in His hands for this very purpose ? That kind heavenly Friend has said, “Suffer little children to come unto me.”

And this is the way for you to bring them—by baptism.

It is now the custom, in many of our churches, to administer the sacrament of baptism, in the presence of the whole congregation. And surely for this every parent should feel thankful. For, is it not a comfort to you to believe, that other hearts are lifted up to God besides your own ; that your Child has the prayers of many of God's people in its behalf?

And here it may be well to say a word about "Private Baptism." In case your Child should be seized by illness, and be likely to die, before you can have an opportunity of taking it to God's house, our church allows it to be privately baptized.

Now, some persons call this being “half-baptized.” But this is a very foolish and unmeaning name to give it. We might as well say of those who receive the Lord’s Supper privately, that they only half receive it. The fact is, that when the holy ordinance is thus administered, the child is fully and perfectly baptized. Then afterwards, if its life is spared, it is brought to the church, not to be baptized over again, but to be admitted as a member of that church to which it is brought. Let us then, in future, speak of “privately baptizing,” and not “half-baptizing,” our children.

The next point I would urge upon you is, to be very careful and anxious to choose those persons for Godfathers and Godmothers, who show by their lives that they are true and faithful servants of Jesus Christ. You should try and find such Persons as are most likely, in case you die, to care for your child's soul; and who will see that he is trained up as a Christian, so that you may have a good hope that he may one day join you in Heaven.

Having done this, when the appointed Sunday draws near, ask God to prepare your minds, so that you may go to church with holy and devout feelings. Then, take your Child to God's Minister with full assurance of faith; seeking for, and expecting, a rich and lasting blessing on your beloved infant. "Be not faithless, but believing." "Ask, and ye shall have." "The promise is unto you, and to your children."

But this is not all. When the service is over, and your child baptized, think not that your duty is over too. Do you recollect what was said, in the third chapter, about the Farmer's custom, when any fresh lambs are brought, and are added to his flock? We said that he would have them marked with his name, and placed within the fold. But would he be content, do you think, to leave them there? Would he not wish to have them watched, and looked after? Would not his Shepherd provide for them a wholesome pasture, in which there are no poisonous plants to hurt them? Would he not be very careful to keep them away from any dangerous pits and holes, into which they might otherwise fall? And would he not use every caution to prevent them from going astray? We know that he would. Then, should not we take the same care for the souls of our children? Christ has said, "Feed my lambs." He seems to say, "They are mine; called by my name; marked with the sign of my Cross, in token that they should be my followers. Now then, bring them up for me, as if you really believed them to be heirs of my kingdom."

You may read, in the second chapter of Exodus, of Pharaoh's daughter finding the infant Moses in some bulrushes by the river's side. When she had discovered him, she immediately felt pity for him, and seeing a woman (who afterwards proved to be his own Mother) standing near, in order to watch him, Pha-raah's daughter said unto her, "Take this child, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages." And so Jesus, when your child is brought unto him, seems as it were to give him back to you, to take and rear him in his name. It is your duty, and your comfort, to bring up your child for Christ. Your determination should be the same as pious Hannah's, "As long as he liveth, he shall be lent unto the Lord."

Happy will be your task, if it is undertaken with these feelings! Treat your child, as one that has been given to God, an heir of his heavenly kingdom. Tell him, as soon as he can understand you, that he was born in sin, but that Christ hath redeemed his soul. Tell him, that he has been offered to Jesus, to be his servant. Tell him, that Heaven is the bright prize held out to him. Tell him, that his Saviour loves him. Teach him, that even the smallest sin will make him unhappy, and shut out God from his heart. Show him that the best, and most precious, of all knowledge is to know Christ; and this only the Spirit of God can really teach him. Prove to him by words, but much more by your christian example, that the ways of God are full of blessedness and peace. It is wonderful how the youngest child will watch, and notice, and imitate, the conduct of its Parent. Oh! then, how very cautious you should be! One short word, one single act of yours, may make an impression on his mind, which days and years will not wipe out.

Above all, never let a day pass without commending your Child to God. Pray that his heart may be touched, and filled with the grace of the Holy Spirit, and that, as he grows in years, he may grow in likeness to Christ.

CHAPTER VI.

A FEW PLAIN HINTS FOR GOD-
FATHERS AND GODMOTHERS.

SCRIPTURE says nothing about Sponsors. I mean by "Sponsors" what are commonly called Godfathers and Godmothers. We are not told, whether there was any such office in the days of the Apostles. It is very certain, however, that the Christian church in early times found it necessary, and it has been kept up ever since. Certainly, such was the custom in the church fourteen hundred years ago, and perhaps even before that time.

Do you ask, what is the use of having Sponsors? I will try to tell you. It is that we may be doubly sure, that each child will be taken care of, and brought up as a Christian. As for the Parents of the child, we, of course, consider them as already bound, by the ties both of nature and religion, to attend to its spiritual welfare. But the advantage of having God-parents also is that, in case the natural parents should be neglectful, or should die during the infancy of their child, there should be others, authorized by the church, to discharge this christian duty.

But, what is the particular duty of Sponsors? Not to declare that the child will for certain lead a godly life; for this they cannot know. Not to become answerable for its sins. God forbid! When you stand for a child, I will tell you what you do. You become a surety for its Christian conduct. You pledge yourself to use your influence, that it shall be brought up according to the laws of Christ's church; and so live the life of a true Christian.

Let me give an example of this in worldly matters. About fifty years ago, it so happened that the laws of the French Nation were altered. The people were one day assembled in great numbers, and the King appeared before them, and solemnly took an oath, that he would henceforward rule the country according to this new system of laws. The Queen was there also, and the young Prince. And she held him up to the people, and declared in his name, that he too, if he should ever live to be king, would be faithful to this new government. He was too young to speak for himself; so, you see, she acted in this case as his surety, or sponsor. And what did she mean by this? She could not know the little child's feelings. But she meant, that she would see that he was brought up, and educated, according to the principles which the people required.

Now it is your duty to see that your godchild is brought up, according to the principles which God requires. It is your duty to give his Parents advice, if needful; and to the child also, when he is old enough to receive it. It is your duty to pray for him. You should feel, that he is, in some measure, under your care, till he is old enough to declare with his own mouth, at Confirmation, that he will faithfully follow Christ. Then the Bishop will lay his hands upon him, and give him his blessing; and he will be received as a confirmed and full member of the church.

Think, then, how solemn your duty is, when you attend your God-child at its baptism!

First, you promise, that he will renounce, or give up, the service of the devil, the pomps and vanity of the world into which he is entering, and all the sinful lusts and inclinations of the flesh. See, then, that you have from your heart given up these things, and have devoted yourself to God.

Secondly, you promise, that he shall be a believer in Christ's gospel. Examine yourself, whether you are resting with simple and humble faith on that Saviour, whom the Gospel offers to you.

Thirdly, you promise, that he shall keep God's commandments. And here let me beg you to search and try your ways; and see whether you are living in sincere and faithful obedience to the will of your heavenly Father.

It is, indeed, enough to make one shudder to see those, whom we know to be ungodly persons, coming to the font as godfathers and godmothers. They dare to promise for others, what their own consciences tell them they have no desire themselves to perform. We tremble, too, for Parents who choose such Guardians for their children.

Nothing has been said, it is hoped, to keep back serious and thoughtful Persons from undertaking this duty. The office is solemn, but the Lord's grace is sufficient to enable you to discharge it faithfully. It is your duty, who really love the Lord Jesus, not to shrink from it. On the contrary, you should feel glad to lend a hand, as it were, in building up His spiritual Church. Look upon it rather as “ a work of faith,” and “ a labour of love ;” for, as our Prayer Book says, it is “ a charitable work.”

CHAPTER VII.

ADVICE TO THE BAPTIZED, WHEN OLD ENOUGH TO LISTEN TO IT.

It ought to make you very thankful, to think that you have long been placed within the shelter of Christ's Fold. You have been welcomed into the family and church of God, by the Holy Sacrament of Baptism. It is your privilege now to look upon God, as your God; upon Jesus, as your Saviour; upon the Holy Spirit, as your Guide and Sanctifier; upon Heaven, as the bright and happy home, where you may dwell for ever.

This, I say, should make you feel thankful. But it should make you very thoughtful too. For, can it be a light thing to belong to Christ; to engage yourself as His servant; to have been publicly enlisted into His army; to be one of His members? All this took place when you were very young. You could then promise nothing for yourself. But your kind Friends, who knew what was best for you, promised for you, that you would become the servant and follower of Jesus Christ. They became bound for you; pledging themselves, that nothing should be wanting on their part to lead you into this blessed service.

And now let me solemnly ask you, whether you are keeping these promises, or breaking them.

Two paths are before you.

One path is very easy to find, and it is very easy to continue in it. The Bible says of it, "Wide is the gate, and broad is the way; and many there be that go in thereat." The road is for the most part downhill. Little or no toil is necessary for those who walk in it. There are many gay flowers and delicious-looking fruits to entice you by the way. But, then, some of these only last for a moment; and others, which taste sweet at first, soon turn into gall. It is true, there are crowds of fellow travellers to be met with; and yet, in one sense, you must journey on alone. I mean, you will be without Christ.

And, every step you take, you will be getting farther from him. But now comes the great question, Whither will this road lead us? TO DESTRUCTION !!

The other path is very different. We cannot even find it of ourselves. The Spirit of God must enlighten us to see the way; and He alone can give us a desire to walk in it. It is written concerning this road, "Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, and few there be that find it." It is uphill at times. There are here and there rugged and steep places, where we need the arm of Some One, stronger than ourselves, to lean upon. And yet it is a safe road; a way too of pleasantness, and a path full of peace. Every pilgrim is expected to give up his own will, to resist his own inclinations, and to struggle manfully against his enemies; and these enemies are many, and they try all they can do to turn us from our course.

But there is a Friend always near to help us, to cheer us on, to give us counsel, and to clear the way for us. He can support us when we are weak, and comfort us when we are cast down. He seems to be for ever whispering in our ears, "This is the way; walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left."

Oh! there is joy and blessedness to be found in this path, which the other promises, but cannot give. And it becomes brighter and brighter as we journey on; for "the path of the just is as the shining light, which shineth more and more unto the perfect day." And whither will it lead us? TO ETERNAL LIFE!!!

Now, my dear Reader, if your friends, who took you to be christened, had pledged themselves that you would follow the first of these paths, would they have acted a kind part towards you? No; certainly not. And therefore they promised in your name, that you would be a traveller on the other road, which leads to heaven.

And is it not truly a happy thing to be a Follower of Christ? Is it not a great honour to belong to Him, and to be a member of His Church and Family? "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God!"

How careful, then, and how watchful you should be, lest you disgrace that holy name by which you are called! How eagerly you should look to your own heart, to see whether Christ, and Christ alone, is ruling there! To have received the blessing of Baptism, and yet not to be serving Christ, is to be in a most awful condition. This is making our very Baptism a witness against us. I fear there are many baptized persons who have "lifted up their eyes, being in torments."

Think not, then, that you are truly Christ's, unless your life and conversation show that you are His; for "if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

I feel it necessary to give this warning. But I hope that my dear Reader is not merely bearing the name of Christ, and wearing His livery; but is also living the life of a Christian. Then it is well with you. Go on in your blessed course. You are called to pass through a dangerous world; but fear not. Only keep your eyes steadily fixed on your Lord; for He is very near you, though you see Him not. In all your weakness cling to Him; for He has said, "My grace is sufficient for you; for my strength is made perfect in weakness." "I will never leave you."

When sin entices you, (and this it most assuredly will do,) think to yourself, "I am God's child; how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against my heavenly Father?" When Satan troubles you, fly to your Saviour for support. And, when the world offers you a bribe, think of that better world—your own true Home—to which you are hastening. Tell those who would lead you astray, that you are already pledged to Christ; that you find His yoke easy, and His burden light; that you have been signed with the sign of His cross, in token that you should be faithful to Him. Tell them, that He gives you a comfort and a peace even now, which the world cannot give; and that you are looking forward to your promised rest in heaven, where you hope to be received, being washed from all your guilt in the blood of the Lamb, and clothed with His righteousness.

And now, dear Reader, I take my leave of you. If there has been any truth in these pages, if there has been anything said to do you good, then think of these things. Most heartily do I commend you to God. May you become a true and faithful member of His Church; so that, having been admitted into His Kingdom here, you may hereafter be welcomed to a higher and better Inheritance above. And may your ear be one day gladdened by that heavenly voice, which shall say to you, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world!"

CHAPTER VIII.

PRAYERS.

1. For Parents, before the Baptism of a Child.

O ALMIGHTY FATHER, we thank thee for thy great goodness in having given us this dear Child. Make us to feel a deep concern for the well-being of his* soul. Oh, how great is thy mercy, in sending thy Son from heaven to die for us! Grant that, by His precious blood, both we and our children may be cleansed from our sins.

Thou hast promised to give thy Holy Spirit to them that ask thee; and thou hast promised to pour that Spirit upon our offspring. Lord, fulfil thy promise at this time. May all who are dear to us be dear to thee. Especially we pray for this our Infant, whom we now desire to bring to thy holy Baptism. We know that he was born in sin; but we ask thee, gracious Lord, to bestow thy pardon on him, for Christ's sake. Wash him from his guilt, and sanctify him by thy Holy Spirit.

O thou great and good Shepherd, we bring this Lamb to thee. Receive him into the arms of thy mercy, and carry him in thy bosom.

Sow the seed of eternal life in his heart, and make him thine for ever. Guard him by thy power. Guide him by thy wisdom. Keep him by thy grace. Strengthen him by thy help. And, as he grows in years, make him to grow in grace, and in likeness to Thee his Saviour; to whom, with the Father, and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory for ever. Amen.

2. For Parents, after the Baptism of a Child.

O MOST holy and gracious God, we come to thee in the name of thy dear Son. Hear us for His sake. Both for ourselves, and also for our dear Child, we offer thee our hearty thanks.

We have solemnly given him up to thee in Baptism : and thou hast graciously received him into the number of thy flock. Oh give us grateful hearts to praise thee for these thy mercies. Enable us to feel, that our child is no longer our own, but thine. Our desire now is, that thou wilt enable us to bring him up for thee. Lord, give us much wisdom ; and show us how to act concerning him. Do thou mercifully teach us, so that we may teach him. May our words and our example be such as to lead him in the right path.

O thou blessed Spirit, dwell within him. Open his eyes, that he may early see the hatefulness of sin. Create in him a new heart ; and may that heart be given to thee.

Fill him with love towards his Saviour. Make him a blessing and comfort to his Parents; useful to those around him; and faithful to his heavenly Master.

Oh be thou with him in every stage of his life. And, after thou hast safely carried him over the troublesome waves of this world, receive him into everlasting rest, through the merits of Jesus Christ, our blessed and only Saviour. Amen.

3. For a Sponsor, before Baptism.

O GOD, thou delightest in showing mercy to thy people; and thou teachest us to be kind towards our brethren. Make us to feel more and more that "we are members one of another.” Give me grace now to discharge rightly the solemn office, which I have undertaken. When I go presently to thy house, give me a serious and praying heart. Take away all my coldness and unbelief; and grant me grace heartily to believe thy promises.

Thou hast taught us, O heavenly Father, to pray for one another. Receive, then, the prayers which I offer for him whom we are about to present to Thee. Do thou graciously receive him. Wash him in the blood of thy dear Son. Let thy Holy Spirit rest upon him, and dwell within him. Make him not only a Christian in name, but a Christian also in heart and in life. O Lord, direct his parents; and give him thy heavenly blessing, both now and ever, for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

4. For a Sponsor, after Baptism.

O Lord Jesus Christ, thou didst suffer little children to come unto thee when thou wast upon earth ; and thou hast graciously appointed a way for bringing them to thee now. I heartily thank thee that thou hast permitted us to approach thee, in the Holy Sacrament of Baptism.

Blessed be thy name, that this Child hath been received into the Christian fold. Grant that, "being buried with Christ in Baptism," he may live the life of Christ. - Make him to walk in the path of holiness. Make him happy. Give him a spiritual mind ; and may he earnestly set his affections on things above.

O heavenly Father, thou knowest the temptations to which he is exposed ; shelter him under thy wings, and keep him thine for evermore.

Give me grace to do my duty, in this solemn office. May I be faithful to my trust, feeling that thine eye is upon me. Lord, I know my exceeding weakness. Do thou help me in my endeavours, and then pardon all my failings. And now, hear me, O my God, in these my imperfect prayers ; and do for me, and for this dear child, more than I can ask or think, for the sake of Jesus Christ, our ever-blessed Redeemer. Amen.

5. For a Baptized Person.

O Almighty Father, I thank thee that I am allowed to draw near to thee as thy child, and to call thee my Father. I was once a poor out-cast, a child of wrath, but thou didst mercifully receive me into thy family.

I confess, Lord, that I have not lived up to my high calling. Though I am a Christian in name, I have not always been a Christian in conduct. Father, I have sinned. I have dishonoured thee, and have not been a faithful follower of my Saviour. My own heart condemns me. Oh ! forgive, for Christ's sake, all my weakness, my ignorance, and my sins. And make me more obedient, more watchful, and more holy. Give me more of the mind of Christ. Form me, and shape me according to His blessed image. May I be Christ's; and may Christ be mine. May I live by faith on the Son of God.

Blessed Saviour, I have been marked with thy Cross. Oh! let me never be ashamed of Thee. Enable me to fight the good fight, and to be faithful unto death. As I have been buried with thee in baptism, may I now be truly risen with thee; and may I seek those things which are above. Send down thy Holy Spirit, to be my daily Guide and Teacher.

O my God, never leave me to myself whilst I am here. And at length, take me to thyself, to dwell with thee for ever. Grant this, I beseech thee, for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.
